LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention.
Buy a new house—R. E. Baldwin.
High water to-day at 8:28 p. m.
Mrs. John Adt has gone to Waterbury for a few weeks.
Pierre J. Wurtz '91 S. is visiting at his home on Whitney avenue.

Prices for tired purses at the Royal Shoe store; great leather sale.

The Mothers' Journal for February, another excellent number, is just out.

Howell Osborn, whose mother gave Osborn hall to Yale, died in New York city yesterday.

G. L. Sargent and F. L. Bigelow of this city are at Tampa Bay hotel, Tampa, Fla.

Charles Dexter Allen will speak before the Graduates' club in this city Saturday on "Book Plates."

Mrs. Hoadley B. Ives and Miss Eastman left Tuesday for a journey which will include a trip to the Orient.

The Misses Harris of 161 Orange street offer their few remaining trimmed hats at five dollars each. A rare opportunity.

M. M. Bentley, for a few months past with M. M. Clark in Simsbury, has made a business engagement with M. E. Terrell of Westville.

G. J. Moffatt, the paper box manufacturer, lost a very valuable diamond out of his ring yesterday. He thinks he lost it on Orange street.

Ell Whitney, Jr., is somewhat better, although he is not yet able to leave his room, and it will probably be some days before he is able to be out.

Judge and Mrs. W. K. Townsend are at the St. James' hotel, Jacksonville, for a few days. Later they will go to points on the east coast of Florida.

The grain mill of the Platt Mills company at Platt Mills, Waterbury, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Loss $10,000; insurance $8,000.

Miss M. S. Coe of Yaleville will attend a tea given in her honor by her friend, Miss Edith Verrill of Whalley avenue, New Haven, on the 9th inst.

Mrs. Oviatt, the mother of Sidney B. Oviatt, the real estate dealer in this city, died suddenly at her home in Orange Tuesday night of heart disease.

The recital to be given by Miss Mary Dudley Burk, the elocutionist of this city, in Warner hall Monday evening, February 13, will be one of rare excellence.

Mrs. Judith Prince of this city was in New London Tuesday looking after the repairing of the old Prince house on Main street, which she will occupy as soon as completed.

The annual reception of Court Columbia, No. 6,396, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, was held in Haragard hall last night and proved to be both a financial and social success. There were seventy-five couples in the grand march.

The first grand ball of the Shear-makers' association, eighteen of whom are employees of the Scholhorn Manufacturing company, and are on strike, owing to a reduction of wages, takes place at old Union armory to-night. With good music and prompting a very pleasant time is expected.

The Scottish American of New York in speaking of Miss Mary Dudley Burk's recitations at the Caledonian's celebration of the anniversary of Robert Burns held in the Hyperion January 25 says: The way in which she acquitted herself in "Burns' Address to a Haggie" made not a few wish that some more of her selections had been in the Doric.

The engagement of Thomas F. Bayard, Jr., son of Ambassador Bayard, to Miss Dorothy Davis of Wilmington, is announced. Miss Davis is a relative of H. P. Scott, the banker. Mr. Bayard is about twenty-five years of age, is a graduate of Yale, class of '90, and now has charge of the extensive law practice of his father. The wedding will probably take place in the spring.

Parlor and Bed Room Suites and Furniture Generally.

H. B. Armstrong & Co., the well known and popular dealers in furniture, whose establishment is the largest in the city, and whose goods cannot be surpassed by any dealer in New England, offer splendid inducements to purchasers at this time. There is a special sale going on now, and all who need parlor suites, bedroom suites, easy chairs, couches or anything in the line of furniture; also carpets, rugs, mats, lace curtains, shades, draperies, paper hangings, etc., will be surprised as well as delighted at the superb selections and the extremely low prices. 87-97 Orange street and 789 Chapel street.

FAIR HAVEN.

Mr. Moody Recovering—The Ice Carting—Rats—Stone Crusher—Ma Sweet and Her Eight Charming Daughters—General News.

L. W. Moody of the annex, the well known insurance agent, who has been ill for several weeks, is able to be out again, but is not sufficiently strong to attend to business. He will leave for the south next week, purposing to be away for several weeks.

The members of the Young People's guild of the Grace Episcopal church are arranging an entertainment to be given in Central hall on the evening of February 20.

A season of special meetings was begun in the Grand avenue Baptist church Tuesday evening. There will be another meeting to-morrow evening. Rev. W. G. Pennell of Meriden, who is assisting in carrying on the meetings, preached an excellent sermon on Tuesday evening.

Selectman Ludington was at the state capital on Tuesday. The teams which have carted ice from the Homingway ponds to the ice houses of Sperry & Barnes on Long wharf have finished putting in the 2,000 tons, and are now filling the houses of Strong, Barnes, Hart & Co. In a few days all the Fair Haven ice houses will also be filled. There are from seventy-five to 100 men employed in the ice harvest in the annex at the present time. The quality of the ice was never finer, some of the second crop lying over ten inches in thickness.

C. A. Howard of Exchange street, who has been greatly annoyed with rats around his barns, has succeeded in ridding the place of them, having caught eighty-seven in all. He has a trap that never fails, having caught fifteen of the little animals in one night. This evening Hiram Camp division, S. of T., will give another of their entertainments. It will be under the direction of one of the companies, which is competing in these entertainments.

The newly elected officers of the East Haven grange were installed into office Tuesday evening.

The stone crusher has been taken from the annex to Westville. The transportation of this heavy weight across the Grand avenue bridge was a pretty good test of its strength. It is heavier than the electric cars, which the city engineer said would be unsafe to run across.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Hemingway have gone to Norfolk, Va., to visit their son, and will remain south about three weeks.

At the Grand avenue Congregational church this evening "Ma Sweet" and her large family of eight charming daughters will entertain their friends. During the evening Mrs. Sweet is supposed to give a party to introduce her daughters to society, and these present will be treated to an exhibition of all their varied accomplishments.

The characters will be "Ma Sweet," which will be taken by Miss Bishop, and the daughters are Miss Georgie Hardy, Miss Gertrude Bradley, Miss Josephine Bradley, Miss Clara Ford, Miss Mattie Griswold, Miss Lucy Griswold, Miss Louise Johnston and Miss Harriet Denison. Mr. Willis will give mandolin solos.

The Ladies' Union society of St. Andrews M. E. church, corner of Forbes and Townsend avenues, annex, gave their annual sale last evening. Useful and fancy articles were on sale. The ladies also gave a generous supper at 15 cents.

Patrick Dugan, a laborer living at 137 James street, called at ex-Selectman Michael Eagan's residence on Ferry street recently, and informed Mr. Eagan that he was indebted to the estate of the late James Kendall to the amount of nearly $300.

Mr. Eagan is executor of the estate, and he informed his visitor that he had no bills against him. Dugan explained that Kendall entrusted him with the money, and although there were no papers to show that such a transaction had taken place, the money was due the dead man's heirs and he was prepared to pay, which he did on the spot.

FOR A DRAWBRIDGE.

Colonel Henry M. Roberts of the United States corps of engineers will hold a hearing in city hall next Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the purpose of hearing persons for or against the project to construct a drawbridge across the Quinnipiac river at Grand avenue.

The secretary of war has decided the bridge to be a fit place for a draw, and has given notice that one shall be erected before December 31, 1895, at 1 o'clock p. m. unless otherwise ordered.
